"Checks are Money"

NATIONAL SAFETY PAPER

The Safety Trade Mark

This page is National Safety Paper. It is known by the wave lines and the anchor emblem containing the name "National Safety Paper." This trade mark ensures checks against fraud.

Checks on National Safety Paper cannot be altered chemically or mechanically. An erasure mutilates the paper, exposing instantly an attempted cheat. Amount, payee, date, and endorsements are equally protected.

Trade marked checks on National Safety Paper are the safest of all carriers of wealth.

National Safety Paper

Forty years ago Mr. George G. Williams, then President of the Chemical National Bank of New York, said:

"The day is coming when the plain check will be regarded with suspicion."

Today, the plain check is used less than ever before. Checks are money; they need protection.

80% of the New York City banks, two-thirds of the banks in Chicago, Philadelphia, and Boston, and thousands of banks in the large and small cities of the United States and Canada use National Safety Paper for checks, drafts, notes, or for other valuable instruments requiring protection against fraudulent alteration.

National Safety Paper costs but little more than ordinary paper. If you are not already using this paper, ask your printer or lithographer to quote prices. Write us for a sample book showing the six colors in which National Safety Paper is made.
